SELECTMEN'S REPORT

Financial. The Town's condition has further improved during the year. All the old uncollected taxes were placed in the hands of the elected collector, and the balances outstanding of the years up to 1906 are now very small. These are, for the most part, uncollectable, and we trust the assessors will take action to get them off the books. Through the efforts of the collector, the amount of temporary borrowings has been less than for many years. The bonded debt was increased by the sale of $26,000.00 of schoolhouse bonds. These were awarded to the highest bidder at $102.767. The incidental account has been overdrawn by $165.24, owing to several unexpected items, among which are:

$157.19, for legal services and costs in suits of Lane, against the Town, and Evans against the Town, and three years' services as Town Counsel of P. H. Cooney, for which no bill had previously been rendered.

At the present time, to the best of our knowledge, all old matters have been well cleaned up.

The salary account is overdrawn by reason of the increase in the Treasurer's salary, and the extra work of the Assessors.

Legal. In the case of Lane vs. the Town, to recover back taxes paid under protest, on the ground that said taxes had already been paid, the jury rendered a verdict against the town for $400.00. The judge set aside the verdict, and by agreement the case was referred to a master.

Streets. The appropriation for improvement of Main street has not been used, as the Highway Commission have not yet granted the desired assistance. Unless they soon take some favorable action, it may be desirable to take the matter up with the County Commissioners. At the Tower Hill station, an arrangement was made with the railroad and the Highway Surveyor, to place a drain for surface water, the town paying one-half of the expense.

Lighting. Additional street lamps have been placed as follows:

Tower Hill Road, 5 lights.

Plain Road, 3 lights.

Police. The board appointed J. H. Maloney as regular officer in charge of all police work. Enforcement of the liquor law has continued. Some attempt has been made to check the reckless driving of automobiles, and a number of drivers have been taken into court.

Appointments. The regular appointments required by law have been duly made. They appear in the list of town officials and committees.

Insurance. The Town Treasurer deserves great credit for having worked out during the past year a plan of covering all the town's insurable property under a blanket policy, which is now in force. The total amount covered by it is about $100,000.00, and there will be a marked saving in insurance premiums under this plan.

Grade Crossing Abolishment. The State Highway Commission have suggested a petition by the Selectmen to abolish the grade crossing at Bridal Point, agreeing, if this is accomplished, to take that portion of the road not now under their jurisdiction, between the house of Samuel Russell and the further side of the bridge over the Sudbury river, provided that this bridge shall be reconstructed, either as part of the grade crossing improvement, or by the town. As at present advised, we do not think it would be done as part of the grade crossing improvement, as the distance between the railroad and the bridge appears to be sufficient in which to grade down to the level of the present bridge. If the Highway Commission will take the bridge as it is now, and reconstruct it themselves, when necessary, or if it could be included in the abolishment of the grade crossing, which would involve relatively slight expense to the town, we should be in favor, but we have not been willing to put in a petition without some assurance that the town would not be committed to the rebuilding of the bridge at this time.

Town of Wayland

The boundary lines between Lincoln and Wayland, Sudbury and Wayland, and Natick and Wayland, have been perambulated, and the boundary marks found in order.

Report of Cochituate School Building Committee

The committee after careful inquiry engaged as architects Adden & Parker of Boston. The main contract was awarded to the lowest bidders, Hapgood, Frost & Co. of Wellesley. The following are the contracts and estimates to date :

Hapgood, Frost & Co. (building)	. . .	$24,994.00
Walworth, English Flet Co. (heating)	. .	2,292.00
Sewerage plant	909.55
Architects	1,450.00
Coal	250.00

The estimates as first submitted were considerably in excess of these figures, and it was necessary to cut out every item of expense that was not absolutely essential to the safety and usefulness of the building. We believe we have secured a building that will be a credit to the town at a minimum of cost.

The premium received on the bonds sold was $719.42. The committee expected to have the use of this sum and to expend it on grading and minor miscellaneous items, but a statute passed by the last legislature provides that after deducting the cost of preparing bonds of this description the balance of the premium shall be applied toward the extinguishment of the bonds. The cost of preparing the bonds was ninety dollars. Deducting this amount from the premium leaves a balance of $629.42.

An additional sum will also be required for furniture. This we estimate will cost one thousand dollars, ($1000.00).

We therefore ask for a further appropriation of a sum equal to the balance of the premium on the bonds, which is $629.42, and $1000.00 additional for furniture.

Cochituate School Building Committee

An honest effort has been made to keep expenses down and not to over-run the appropriation. We regret exceedingly the necessity of asking for more money, but it seems unavoidable.

One of our citizens presented the town with a strip of land containing 55 feet frontage and about 186 feet in depth taken from the land of Mrs. Mary Fairbanks to the south of the present schoolhouse lot. This made it possible to so place the new building that there should be ample space on both the north and south sides, thus greatly improving the general appearance and beauty of the new structure. This same gentleman has also made other gifts which have added greatly to the real worth of the building and which the committee could not provide in their original plans and still keep within their appropriation.

We hope to have the new building finished and ready for occupancy by the middle of April.

The committee have been without the services of two of its members.

Report of Forest Warden

The following is the second annual report of the Forest Warden:

Owing to an early spring in 1910, and the lack of heavy rains, it was favorable for grass and forest fires. There were twelve such fires during the months of March and April.

Another very dry season has passed and the people should be commended for the watchfulness and care in preventing woods res. It is fortunate there was no large damage done.

There were eighteen permits issued to light fires.

There has been no complaints of fires being set intentionally, or on other persons property.

Care should be taken not to ring in fire alarm boxes for grass or forest fires unless buildings are in immediate danger; as the equipment used at a house fire cannot be used to advantage in the woods. Notify the Warden or a fireman and get quicker results, and thereby save expense to the town.

Fire in the river meadows caused by sparks from a locomotive was put out with little damage. The cost for putting it out was paid by the railroad.

CLARENCE S. WILLIAMS,

Forest Warden.

Board of Health

Wayland, Mass., March 1, 1911.

Board of Selectmen.

Gentlemen :— The Board of Health of the Town of Wayland report as follows :

In the past year several cases have come under our observation, namely :

Supposed smallpox, 1 case reported.

Scarlet fever, 4 cases reported.

Tuberculosis, 1 case reported.

Typhoid fever, 38 cases reported.

Supposed typhoid fever cases not reported 46.

Several cases of measles and mumps have not been reported.

At the time of the typhoid fever outbreak, and the number of cases which were supposed at the time not to be typhoid fever, retarded the action by our board greatly. Experts were employed from the State board, and the cause was at once checked. The board find that the whole cause of the typhoid fever outbreak was caused not from infection or contagion in our own town, but from other sources.

Several cesspools were put in and closets have been cleaned and differently constructed to prevent any contagion.

All stagnant water last spring was sprayed with mosquito oil to prevent malaria.

Town of Wayland

During the ensuing year, the board wish to call the attention of the citizens to the danger of expectorating on sidewalks and in public buildings. The board wish to act in conjunction with the public, and wish to say that any suggestion that will help the general health of the public will be received cordially.

Respectfully yours,

W. C. HUNTING,
THOS. BRYANT,
ALBERT E. STEVENS,
Board of Health.

Board of Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN:— The following is a report of Animal Inspection for the past year:

Since March 1, 1910, seven head of cattle have been killed that were affected with tuberculosis in different ways. Several head have also been examined on complaint, but were found to be free from that affliction.

The carcasses of these animals were rendered.

Three complaints were received for nasal discharges which proved breath and catarrh. (In horses).

RABID CASES

Three dogs have been killed with rabies. One dog being bitten by a rabid dog was killed. One dog supposed to have been bitten was held for three months and released by the Chief of the Cattle Bureau.

Three dogs were bitten by a rabid dog, and received the Pasteur inoculation which proved to be successful.

Respectfully submitted,

THOS. BRYANT, V. S.

Inspector.

Overseers of Poor

Wayland, Mass., March 1st, 1911.

The Overseers of Poor recommend that the Selectmen act as overseers of poor in the future, as in other towns, with beneficial results, as the business has been minimized to such a basis that it would be a useless waste of money to continue as in the past.

The Overseers, the past year, visited Worcester, Brookfield and Springfield, looking up our outside poor.

In Worcester we found a party who has been paying taxes in that city since 1902, whom we consider no longer a charge from this town.

In Springfield we found a deserving case, — a mother and four children, one of whom, the eldest, 16 years old, was working. The mother also worked. This party has received from this town sixteen hundred dollars ($1,600.00) in the past ten years, which we feel satisfied was expended in a proper manner.

In Brookfield we could not locate the party wanted, but having received no bills for them during the past two years, we take it for granted that they have become self-supporting.

We, at this time, wish to thank those who so kindly added their names to the subscription paper the overseers put in circulation the past year, in aid of those unfortunately stricken with typhoid fever, and we can assure those that the money was expended in a most careful manner.

Overseers of Poor

We also wish to say that part of the above was given to aid a few cases of the worthy silent poor. The amount collected was two hundred and seventy-one dollars ($271.00) of which one hundred and eleven dollars ($111.00) was expended, leaving a balance of one hundred and sixty dollars ($160.) in the bank to help future deserving cases.

We unfortunately lost, the past year, the services of Mr. Daniel Ricker, who for eighteen years was a valued servant of the town; as Overseer being admired by all for the upright and fearless manner in which he performed the duties of his office.

Appended is statement showing balances held subject to order of the commissioners, Feb. 28, 1911.

Report of Local Superintendent, Gypsy and Brown Tail Moths.

In compliance with requirements, I beg to render my report showing the progress of the work done during the past year, in the way of the extermination of the Gypsy and Brown Tail Moth.

It is generally known, I think, that the Brown Tail specie is ever increasing, which fact is beyond human power to prevent owing to the migration of the pests from one place to another. It must be admitted there are woodlots in the town in bad condition, being infested by Gypsy Moths, but unless the owners will co-operate with the State in bearing the burden of the expense of clearing such, nothing can be done, the state being unable to meet the total expenditure necessary for carrying on the work.

Orchards and highways have been carefully watched during the year and as a result show much improvement.

To many, it may not be known, that the work of this department is directly under the supervision and direction of a State Inspector and only such work as he may elect and the amount thereof can be attempted.

Warning is hereby given to those persons selling wood for transportation out of town, and until it is carefully inspected and nests treated properly thereon, it is unlawful to carry same outside the limits of the town.

Local Superintendent Gypsy and Brown Tail Moth Department.

Report of Trustees of Public Library

The Library Trustees have only to repeat their usual annual observations on the administration of the library for the past year. Their best efforts have been devoted to the conducting of the trust reposed in them by their fellow citizens, to the end that the usefulness of the institution as contemplated in its foundation be not alone adequately maintained, but properly and constantly extended. This, by study of the growing requirements of the town, by careful conservation of the means generously placed at their disposal by town and citizens, and by efficient and courteous service required and rendered in all branches, they have endeavored to accomplish. In the acquisition of books the two correlative functions of the institution as a source of information and of entertainment have ever been borne in mind.

Certain unusual and necessary repairs of the main library building make the special appropriation for this purpose asked by the Trustees necessary.

The annual report of the Librarian to the Trustees, and the list of books added to the library by purchase or gift during the year, are submitted herewith.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of the Town of Wayland :

Your Committee is gratified to report another year of improvement in the condition of the public schools.

At the end of last year the resignation of a majority of our teachers made necessary a general reorganization of the teaching force. Superintendent Prior, with the encouragement and approval of the committee, succeeded in securing for the present year an admirable corps of teachers. The earnest and faithful effort of Mr. Prior has been and will be of lasting benefit to our schools and his resignation from our district is to be deplored. It is most unfortunate for our town that the Wayland, Sudbury and Dover district is so wasteful of the strength and time of our Superintendents.

The Wayland schools are running smoothly under the care of our new superintendent, Mr. Benedict, who is using every effort to increase the efficiency of the corps of teachers.

In general the work of the teachers is excellent and the results they have accomplished is to their credit and the town's advantage. The uniting of the branches of manual training and drawing under the able leadership of Mr. Hazeltine has proved a complete success and your committee feels the change should be commended.

In engaging the teaching force the Committee after making a review of the conditions in corresponding towns fixed upon $600 as the maximum salary for teachers in the grade schools. As a result of this decision a high grade of teachers have been obtained and kept through the year.

The unavoidable increase in the salaries of the various teachers, the equipment of the laboratories in the high school, the additional cost of heating and ventilating the new school building in Cochituate, the increasing cost of transportation and the fact that we can no longer expect state aid since the increased valuation of the town has deprived Wayland of this source of income, demand an increased appropriation for the support of our schools.

Town of Wayland

For the first time an appeal for a new school building in Cochituate can be omitted from the annual report of the school committee, who are able to congratulate the town upon the approaching completion of the Cochituate building.

The Wayland building has a crying need of a supply of water for drinking and other legitimate purposes. If the citizens knew how great this need is we should not be able to report this lack at the end of another year.

FRANK I. COOPER,
H. E. CARSON,
PHILIP S. IDE.

March 1st., 1911.

Supt. F. H. Benedict,

My Dear Sir :—

I present herewith my first annual report as Principal of the Wayland High School. While the first year of my administration is but little more than half over, I think it may be feasible to outline somewhat briefly the policy which has been mapped out for the efficient administration and development of the school. Thus far it has been my aim to preserve the attitude of an observer and learner, studying carefully the general conditions and needs of the school, with a view to keeping up the good work already begun and the toning up of those departments and conditions that need such treatment.

I cannot emphasize too strongly to everyone, more especially to parents, the tremendous, yes, absolutely essential value of a high school training for every boy and girl. Success in business and professional life is just as attainable today as ever, but we lose sight too often of the fact that the conditions of success are far more exacting than ever before. Hence better training is essential. I do not maintain that our high schools have always given this; too often the contrary has been true. Nevertheless I assert that the right kind of a high school can give that training which will insure to every boy and girl a better chance than either would have without such training. Here then is the problem for parent, teacher and school committee, to equip and maintain the efficient public high school. If the problem is solved successfully, the mere money expenditure is trivial compared with the returns on the investment.

The keynote of the modern school is education for efficiency. What are the essential conditions by means of which we can attain this high ideal? In the first place, there must be friendly co-operation between parents and the school. The organization of school work is such that pupils must devote the major part of their time and strength to it during the school term. Parents will do a great deal for the future happiness of their children if they will recognize this, and see to it that social affairs and other outside interests are reduced to a minimum at this time. During the school term, I repeat, the chief business of the high school boy and girl should be school work and its legitimate interests and activities. Enough has been written to indicate the spirit of the rules to govern the time of the student. The interested parent can readily devise rules to govern all specific cases. Our greatest need, then, is to understand each other and the conditions essential to the good work of the boys and girls in whom we all have such a vital interest.

It is a simple matter to devise rules for the daily administration of a school. It is a task for the wisest to administer these rules successfully. I would put above the entrance of every high school the motto, "Freedom within the law is liberty, but liberty without law is license." Rules must be few and to the point, and in all cases enforceable. School society is simply the larger social world written in small letters. The same qualities of leadership, honesty of purpose, purity of life and thought are essential in the school as in the world at large. These must all be developed not by strict martial law, but by the exercise of individual freedom and responsibility. It is true that many such lessons may be learned from books, but it is also true that a vast deal of such truth is to be obtained from other phases of school life. Every exercise, whether in the class-room, laboratory, lecture room, gymnasium or athletic field, or social meeting, should contribute its measure to the training of pupils in these fundamental lessons. Rightly organized, all legitimate school activities and interests do contribute their full share, and it is the aim of the present administration of this high school to develop all of these sources of training in every proper way.

I stated above that the problem of our modern society is to equip and maintain the efficient public high school. The problem is much harder today than ever before because we have laid upon us a double burden. The modern high school must not only continue to exercise its original function of preparing for college, but it must also prepare for life itself. The time will never come when the public will cease to demand the former, and it already demands the latter with increasing emphasis. We need not discuss the college preparatory side of the question more than to say that in our own high school the equipment and teaching force is now in a position, or will be shortly if present plans materialize as they should, to adequately solve this part of the problem. The Wayland High School is already on the accredited list for certificate admission to the Massachusetts Agricultural College, Worcester Polytechnic Institute and the State Normal Schools. There is danger in the certificate system. Most of it can be avoided, however, by the high school refusing to grant certificates in any given subject to a student who ranks below a certain standard in that subject. Reckoning on the customary basis of 100 per cent. the Wayland High School will not grant such certificates for less than 85 per cent. rank in any given subject.

Report of the Superintendent

One thing remains and that is to secure the certification of the N. E. College Entrance Certificate Board. This can be done as soon as two or more graduates of our school successfully pass the entrance examinations of one of the colleges represented on the Board. When any student, in the judgment of the principal, is prepared to take these examinations, he will so recommend. It must, however, be distinctly understood that any pupils not so prepared who are determined to try such examinations, do so at their own risk and without recommendation from this school to the college authorities.

We hear much today of vocational education. It seems to be a new thing, but in reality it is as old as humanity itself, and the shame of our modern civilization is that the ancients understood its value and adapted it to their needs far more successfully than we have thus far. We hear much too about the elimination of pupils from our high schools, especially boys. Your high school pupil preparing for college does not get restless and leave school because he has a purpose formed, and gets in the average high school the training which enables him to realize his ambition. The pupil who does not intend to go farther than the high school will, under normal conditions, remain to graduate if he feels that it is worth while, and can be assured that the administration of the school is planned for him as much as it is for the pupils preparing for college.

Recognizing these truths, it is my earnest purpose as principal of the Wayland High School to make the school course worth while to that large majority of its pupils who expect to complete their education there. It is sufficient to state this as a purpose at this time, and to say in concluding this topic of discussion that plans are maturing and will be presented in due season for giving a more practical turn to the training of such pupils. As stated at the beginning of this report, if this expansion of our high school work costs more, it also brings greater returns, returns indeed out of all proportion to the expenditure involved.

Another reason for the elimination of pupils from the high school has been discouragement over failure to keep in class standing. These failures occur most in the first year, making that year the most critical one in the course. Such failures should and do in almost all schools decrease as the course advances. The percentage of failure in our school for the fall term of 1910 was as follows;— first year 14 per cent.; second year 9 per cent.; third year 3.2 per cent., and fourth year 0 per cent. This is a good showing for the average percentage of first year failures in our public schools is somewhere in the neighborhood of 30 per cent. Herein lies one of the many advantages of the small school. Each pupil receives more individual attention from the instructors, and thus, while the small school costs more per pupil, the results are more satisfactory. Especial attention has been paid and will continue to be paid to the better adaptation of pupils to their work, and to the elimination of wasteful and therefore unproductive work on the part of both teacher and pupil.

It has not been my intention to outline any changes made or contemplated, in this report. Rather has it been my desire to state some of the fundamental principles underlying the work of high school administration, leaving until another year any record of actual work accomplished, believing as I do that time and usage alone serve as the best interests of the worth of any schemes for improvement in the work of any organization. In concluding my report allow me to state that while fault finding is to be deprecated at all times, fair-minded criticism will always be welcomed, and the more complete knowledge the general public has of the high school and its methods, the more satisfied I shall be.

May I express to you the great delight I have taken thus far in work with the pupils, teachers, the committee and yourself. Such circumstances become the best assurance one can give for the future success of the high school and its pupils.

Respectfully submitted,

BRADLEY C. RODGERS.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

To the School Committee, Wayland Mass.

GENTLEMEN :—In accordance with your direction, the thirteenth annual report since the formation of this District is herewith presented for your consideration, including the reports of your principals, special teachers, truant officers, school physician, and the usual statistical information.

This is the fourth month of my service in this District. As a result of my investigations to become acquainted with the work of your teachers and the condition of your schools, there is no hesitancy on my part to commend to you the work of your teachers and their professional standing, assuring you that in my belief they are untiring in their efforts to direct their skill and power into channels that shall militate toward the upbuilding of character, healthy bodies, and wholesome thinking minds in our children. The spirit of wholesome conscientious interest and attention to school requirements on the part of the high school pupils is especially noteworthy at this time.

In all schools there are outbreaks of disorder and disaffections at times. The test of your teachers lies in the handling of these and in building so as to reduce them to a minimum.

On asking myself, "What ideals shall I keep before me and you and how can the administration of affairs be made more effective?" Certain conditions may be mentioned, one or two may well be somewhat elaborated.

Prin. Rodgers is lending every effort to build up strong courses in science. You have met in part this year the needs of this department. I commend to you the plans formulated for next year and advise the purchasing of as much of the apparatus asked for as may be. The science work in our high schools is to-day a most important department.

Parents should understand far better than at present that promotion without merit is not advancement for their children. A child may be promoted and not advanced in ability by the following work ; instead of advancement there is more likely to be retrogression in memory power, confusion of ideas, uncertainty and worst of all a dislike for school and the laying of a foundation for idleness. We need the confidence of parents and their sympathetic co-operation that boys and girls may work in classes best suited to their needs without too great disappointment and injury of feelings. It has been my experience that where pupils are held back and the spirit is right at home there are no lacerated feelings and splendid advancement results.

The strengthening and enlarging of the scope of manual training should be ever before the framers of the educational policy of this Town. It will be well if we may give the sixth grade boys of the Cochituate school Sloyd, or some equivalent. As soon as may be the Town should give the girls lessons in domestic science and extend somewhat the course now given in needle work.

It will be well to consider at some convenient time slight modification of the Commercial Course and also to consider increasing the number of diploma credits for graduation.

The water question at the Wayland building is better known to you than I shall be likely to know it for some time, as is the question of teachers' salaries. You need also to give some little attention to the furnaces at Wayland Center before another winter. The need is well known in these three matters and it is unnecessary for me to say more than to repeat an old sentiment, "Frequent changes of teachers work to the detriment of the schools, generally."

A red letter day for the Cochituate schools is at hand. The day the schools are transferred into the new building will be indeed a memorable one for all connected therewith. The building gives great promise of meeting all expectations. The Town should be congratulated ; the Building Committee and all who have labored for this workshop, this school home for the teachers and children, are to be favored with greatfulness for the results of their efforts, now and in the years to come.

There is one more point in school administration to which your attention may well be directed. That there is a grade at the Wayland building that has no place without having the work of some one room disproportionate is no new fact. Just what to do with this grade or how to manage the school having the three necessary grades is no new problem. Possibly the points I may mention in regard to the solution of the difficulty may be old to you as well.

A very satisfactory arrangement in so far as the educational need is concerned would be the placing of the ninth grade pupils of the Town in the High School, employing another assistant there, and thus giving strength to the High School work in every way. But the conditions as to class rooms do not make this very feasible, if at all possible, and then there is the increase in expenses for another teacher.

With the opening of the Cochituate building another possible arrangement is at hand. The ninth grade pupils of the Town could be placed under the care of the Cochituate Master. There will be sufficient room, an excellent building, the hours can be arranged so as to eliminate the barge question, and the work can be so apportioned as not to burden any teacher or work to the disadvantage of the children. The plan offers (1) relief at Wayland, (2) gives all pupils a year under the instruction of the male mind — thereby strengthening the preparation for high school and adding greatly to the needs of those not entering higher work (3) and makes mid-year promotions except to and in the High School quite possible.

I do not expect this feature of administration to meet with early approval, but it is worthy, in my opinion, of the careful study of the citizens, parents, and yourselves, even though it lead to the consideration of an annex to the Wayland building. This may yield not only aid to our graded schools but also yield a solution of the vexatious sanitary conditions and the water supply at this building.

Town of Wayland

I should feel myself remiss if I should not report to you that the Manual Training Department yields aid to the other departments through the developed handicraft. Window boards for ventilation have been constructed for all the Wayland rooms and the boys have placed shelves in the store room for physical apparatus. Some are also making useful articles for home use. The Commercial Department has also been given some practical work in filing and the girls have also done some work from dictation beside other typewriting. The pupils gain thereby by practical work and the Town is the gainer to some extent financially.

Thanking you for your indulgence and helpfulness during the early weeks of my work with you and expressing my belief that the schools of Wayland should be second to none among towns of her size and wealth, I submit this report.

Respectfully,

FRANK H. BENEDICT

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF THE COCHITUATE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit to you the annual report of the Cochituate Grammar School.

In addition to the regular school work during the spring term of 1910, an effort was made to interest the pupils in home gardens. Seeds in penny packets were obtained for each pupil ordering them, and also some seeds from the United States Department of Agriculture were distributed. During the fall term some results were shown, and prizes given for the best exhibits of flowers and vegetables.

Parents' Day was observed in April. Work in regular classes was shown, also an exhibition of some results in Sloyd, sewing, drawing and music.

The Middlesex County Convention was attended, but no visiting day has been taken during the past year.

There has been no change in the corps of teachers of this building since the last report was made.

I can report at this time that the classes that have had the opportunity to work with the Scott and Southworth's "Lessons in English" are better fitted than those that studied the other books.

The arithmetic books have reached a point in wear which makes renewal on a large scale necessary. It seems to me worth considering the purchase of a different series of books. This recommendation is not made with the idea of displacing the Smith's Series,—which I think is generally satisfactory—but with the object of putting into the hands of the pupils additional, easily accessible material for drill.

Town of Wayland

While some supplementary reading has been purchased during the last year, there is still a great need, especially in the upper grades. I think that the purchase of texts, in prose or poetry, by standard English or American authors would be of far greater value in arousing a love of good books than the reading of disconnected fragments from any book of selections. If an interest in works of value can be aroused, it will serve to check in a large measure, the influence of a class of reading which finds its way into the hands of our boys and girls.

The teachers are unanimous in the opinion that the purchase of copy books would be of great help in our work in penmanship. We trust that it is not too late to do so this year.

The problem of doing what is for the best interest of the pupil is a very difficult one. There is a movement under way at present toward separating the pupils in the grades who are to go to higher educational institutions from those who are to finish school at an earlier age. Particular attention is being given throughout the curriculum to the needs of the pupils in this latter class. This is a question which we ought to begin soon to meet in our grades in the town of Wayland.

I wish to commend to the careful consideration of the parents all the reports which are sent. It is our earnest desire to do all possible for the good of the pupils. In the higher grades home study is necessary to successfully accomplish the work of the year. In many cases a boy or girl might be saved from failure, if studying was regularly and conscientiously done at home.

In closing this report, I wish to express to the citizens of the town the appreciation of the teachers for all that has been done for the school, and to personally thank all for the support given during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

MERITT JENKINS.

Town of Wayland

This being my second year as School Physician, I am in better position to note the attention that has been made by the parent or guardian, of the defects reported on the cards. The results have been very satisfactory. About thirty conditions reported last year have received proper attention and are improved. I wish to thank the parents for such co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

OSCAR A. DUDLEY, M. D.
School Physician.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC

Mr. Frank H. Benedict, Superintendent:

Dear Sir:—Herewith is submitted the annual report of the Music.

In all the grades much attention has been given to the art of getting good tones. This work has been carried on successfully by the grade teachers.

In the first grade the teachers spend a great deal of time in teaching correct tones and instilling in the pupils a love of song. It has been proved that the rote song is the best method of reaching pupils who are otherwise musically indifferent.

Second and third grades have been doing a great deal of individual work. The pupils read very well for their grades and in most cases the tones are correct.

In the other grades the work has continued as heretofore. More time is given in all these grades to individual work and I find that the results in reading surpass that of other years.

The technical side of music is receiving closer attention this year and all the pupils have a good foundation in music.

The pupils in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades are making a study of the lives of some of the most noted musicians.

In the High School some work has been done in the study of Opera music. Selections from some of the operas have been played for the school and a study of the Librettos has been made.

In conclusion I wish to thank the teachers for their earnest work and the superintendent and school committee for their support.

Respectfully submitted,

AGNES E. BOLAND.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING AND MANUAL TRAINING

To the Superintendent of Schools of the Town of Wayland:

Dear Sir:—I herewith submit my report concerning the work in drawing and manual training during the past year.

The drawing and manual training has been carried on much as usual with such changes as were thought advisable to increase the interest in the subject.

The early fall was devoted to nature study. The months of November and December were given to the study of design and handicraft, the children making a gift or booklet using some decoration pertinent to the season.

The children displayed great interest in the work and the results were most pleasing.

January and February have been devoted to the study of perspective and still life drawing in the upper grades. The primary grades have devoted their time to constructing an Indian village of card board and decorating the canoes, etc., with Indian emblems.

In the manual training department quite a few useful objects have been made outside the regular courses of models. Several of the boys who have shown marked ability are working out problems in cabinet making very satisfactorily. Some models we have been able to decorate, the working, drawing and design being made in the school room and put in execution in the manual training room.

The object has been to develop a better appreciation of form and good design combined with careful workmanship, and thus bring the drawing and manual training into closer relationship.

Thanking the Committee and yourself for your interest and support and also the teachers for their hearty co-operation in the work of the year I remain,

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM BROOKS HAZELTON.
